

Dear FCC & to whom it may concern,

My name is Evan Bechtol. I am contacting you today in regards to 17-108 "Restoring Internet Freedom". I am an industry professional, who will be negatively impacted by the removal of "net neutrality" regulations. These regulations prevent ISP's from unfairly charging both consumers and businesses for things such as internet "fast/slow" lanes.

I believe that small businesses across the country will also be severely impacted, due to the fact that they will not be able to afford to have their content in a so-called Fastlane. Which means consumers will not visit their site as often.

Also, ISP's should not determine what content is prioritized one other content. The removal of the aforementioned regulations will undoubtedly have a negative impact on the free distribution of knowledge and information. This is a Cornerstone of the modern internet, and without it I fear that our ability to communicate freely as a society could be lost to corporate benefits.

As an American citizen, as a professional, and as a concerned human being, I urge the FCC to vote to keep net neutrality regulations in place as they are today.

Please don't be the government that everyone thinks we have; dominated by corporate interest, and not acting in the interest of the American public.

This bill, titled "Restoring Internet Freedom", is the farthest thing from freedom for the internet. It may be the single most undemocratic action that the FCC could take on the internet. It certainly does not promote any kind of Internet freedom. In fact, the only "freedom" being restored is to corporations to control what information the public is to see. If these regulations are removed, the age of internet innovation, growth, and freedom of information is over. We will be giving this away to companies who do not have our best interests in mind, who do not care about the free distribution of information, and only care about their profit margins at the expense of citizens and businesses alike.

Please do not remove Net Neutrality regulations. The internet is better than it has ever been, and it does not need "Restoring" of freedom. IT IS FREE RIGHT NOW!

Thank you for your time,

Evan Bechtol
